Mike Chicoine

Elk Point SD 57025

Dear Mr. Chicoine:

The Water Rights Program received the four applications you submitted to appropriate water for irrigation. We have questions regarding the legal descriptions on the three applications west of Elk Point.

Two of the applications have all the acreage to be irrigated in Section 20 and the third application indicates all the acreage is in Section 29. The actual pivot locations appear to straddle the north-south line Sections 20, 21, 28 and 29.

I have enclosed the FSA 2008 aerial map with the well and pivot locations from your submitted map transposed on to it. Also attached are the well locations and acreage breakdown by quarter-quarter section for each pivot. Please review and let us know if you concur.

Using the computer mapping function to determine the acreage of each center pivot, it appears that 141 acres is generous for the area to be irrigated. Each of these appears to be a 132 to 136 acre pivot. However, it is fine to request this larger size but be aware that if less than 141 acres is developed the water right will ultimately be limited to the number of acres that are developed.

Please let me know if you concur with the breakdown of acres on the attached sheets and feel free to contact me if you have any questions.

Sincerely,

Copy

Mr. Chicoine called regarding my October 29th letter. He had taken the map and acreage breakdown to his local FSA office that they concur with the legal description I provided.

It appears that some of the lands may be accretion land or actual legal description be in Section 7, T31N, R6E under the Nebraska survey designation. I have emailed the Union County Register of Deeds and will await a response.

Subject: Legal description assistance for pending water permit applications for Mike Chicoine

The Department of Environment and Natural Resources is requesting assistance in legal descriptions on the deed for lands to be irrigated in Union County west of Elk Point. Mr. Mike Chicoine has filed applications for land very near the Missouri River. Normal South Dakota survey designation would have the land described in portions of the Sections 20, 21, 28 and 29 of T91N, R50W. The attached map (hopefully it's not too large of file) shows the outline of the pivot locations and the standard quarter-quarter lines. However, due to the proximity to the river, some of it may be accretion lands and the actual legal description for the southern most pivot and the south half of the middle pivot may listed on the deed as being in Section 7, T31N, R6E (Nebraska survey). Any help the Union County Register of Deeds can provide is appreciated.

DENR wants to make sure that when the applications are public noticed, the proper legal descriptions are used. Thanks.

APPLICATION NO. 7223-3, Mike and Brad Chicoine

Pursuant to SDCL 46-2A-2, the following is the recommendation of the Chief Engineer, Water Rights Program, Department of Environment and Natural Resources concerning Water Permit Application No. 7223-3, Mike and Brad Chicoine, 508 E Clay Street, Elk Point SD 57025.

The Chief Engineer is recommending APPROVAL of Application No. 7223-3 because 1) there is reasonable probability that there is unappropriated water available for the applicant's proposed use, 2) the proposed diversion can be developed without unlawful impairment of existing rights, 3) the proposed use is a beneficial use, and 4) it is in the public interest with the following qualifications:

1. The well approved will be located near domestic wells and other wells which may obtain water from the same aquifer. The well owner under this Permit shall control his withdrawals so there is not a reduction of needed water supplies in adequate domestic wells or in adequate wells having prior water rights.
2. This Permit is approved subject to the irrigation water use questionnaire being submitted each year.

AQUIFER: Missouri Elk Point

This report will address the availability of unappropriated water from the Elk Point management unit of the Missouri aquifer.

WATER AVAILABILITY

Aquifer Characteristics:

The Missouri Elk Point is a buried outwash (sand and gravel) that is under water table conditions in the area of this application. The aquifer underlies 115,200 acres and contains an estimated 1.5 million acre feet of recoverable water in storage in Union County (Niehus, 1994). The aquifer underlies the flood plains of the Missouri and Big Sioux Rivers in southern Union County (Niehus, 1994). Groundwater movement is basically from northwest to southeast in the area of this application (Niehus, 1994).

Well completion reports have been submitted with this application. The wells appear to be completed according to South Dakota Well Completion Standards.

Observation Well Data:

The Water Rights Program monitors an observation well, UN-77L, located within three miles of the application location for 7222-3, which is located in the middle of the permit locations on a north-south line. Water levels for these wells show good response to climatic conditions, that is, rising water levels during wet years (recharge) and gradually declining water levels during dry years due to natural discharge and to pumping. The water level record indicates that the aquifer is capable of sustaining additional withdrawals (Water Rights, 2010). A hydrograph for this observation well is included with this report.

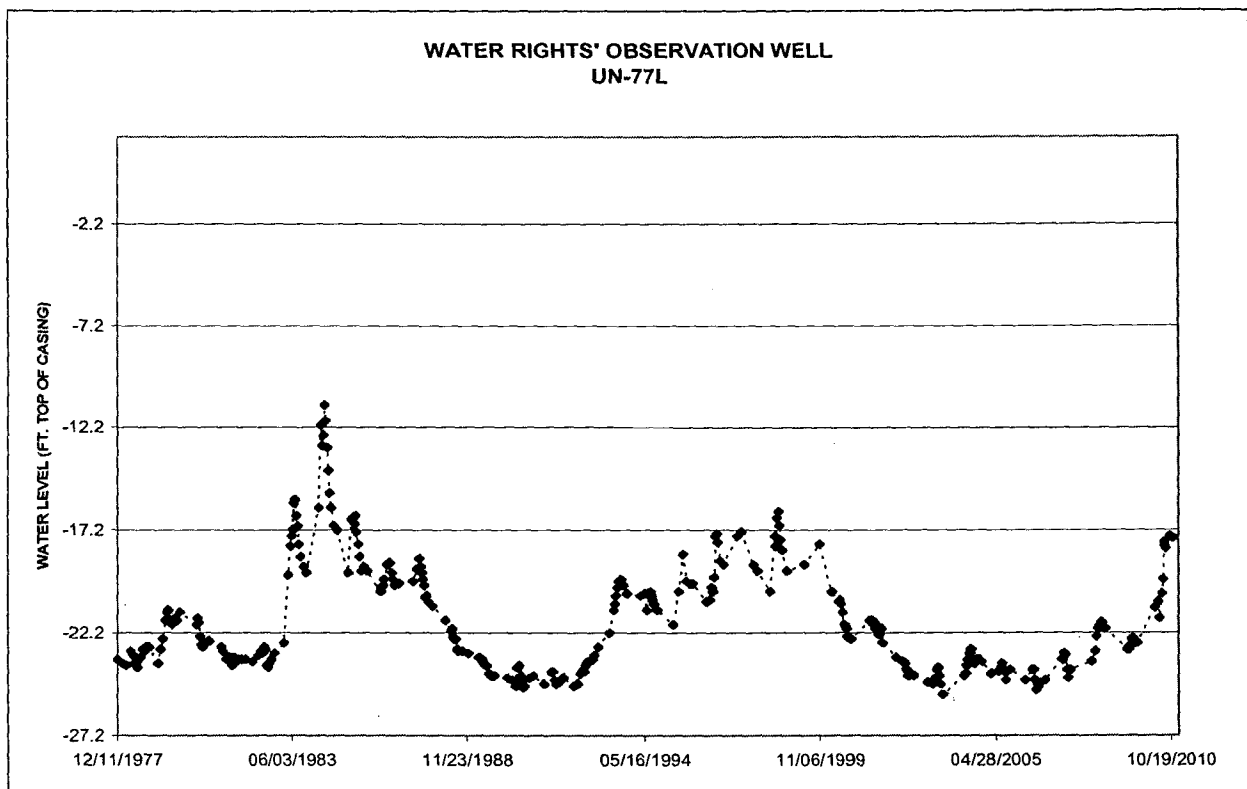

Figure 1. Hydrograph for Water Rights Observation Well UN-77L, completed into the Elk Point management unit of the Missouri Aquifer within one and a half miles of 7222-3

In general, the hydrograph shows that over the period of record, withdrawals have not exceeded recharge.

Review of Existing Water Permits/Rights/Water Use:

Records of irrigation use from the Missouri aquifer, which includes the Peoria management unit, the Pierre management unit, the Greenwood management unit and the Elk Point management unit date back to 1979. The Elk Point management unit typically includes the majority of irrigators; irrigators in the other management units typically total less than ten.

Table 1 shows the number of appropriations, the total amount of water appropriated, and the reported amount of water pumped each year. The average number of appropriations is just over 304, with the average appropriation being nearly 128,000 acre-feet and the average pumpage reported at over 17,000 acre-feet.

Table 1. Irrigation usage from the Missouri aquifer (Water Rights, 1979-2008).

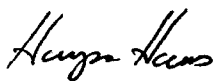

There are six existing water permits/rights for irrigation located within one mile of this application and many more in the surrounding area. Water levels do fluctuate as a result of area pumping but this does not affect the availability of water from the aquifer.

Recharge:

The Missouri aquifer is recharged from several sources. Recharge to the Missouri aquifer occurs through infiltration and subsequent percolation of precipitation in areas where the aquifer is near land surface (Niehus, 1994). Recharge to the aquifer also occurs from the Lower Vermillion-Missouri aquifer at the northern boundary and from the Big Sioux aquifer at the extreme northeastern boundary of the Missouri aquifer (Niehus, 1994). The aquifer is also recharged from the underlying Dakota aquifer and some recharge also is from the Missouri River during periods of high flow and stage (Niehus, 1994).

Conclusions:

1. Water is available from the Elk Point management unit of the Missouri aquifer.
2. The aquifer is under water table conditions at this location. Drawdown will result from pumping. Interference is not expected to be a problem.
3. If the wells covered by these Permits deplete the domestic supplies or interfere with prior water rights, restrictions or other arrangements may be required to protect these water supplies.
4. These wells appear to be constructed in accordance with SD Well Construction Standards.
